

Animation meets documentary in the presentation of the Greek director Martin Andrée.

Creation and Negotiation of Identities in the Historical Documentary

Using four of his films as a guide, director Martin André will talk about the creation and the negotiation of identities through the historical documentary. This is achieved by the artistic means of expression that an artist of cinema has at his or her disposal. In the present case, this implies dramatization, 3D animation, cinematography and editing.

In the present case, this implies dramatization, 3D animation, cinematography and editing.

The central axis of these film is Greek civilisation. Each film has a different subject matter, making evident the variety and the common elements of Greek identity. .
